Hello,

We're reaching out to tell you about changes to your Starter plan.

What is changing?

- Number of Repls: The Starter plan is now limited to 3 Repls. Upgrade to Core for unlimited* Repls.
- Collaboration limits: 1 collaborator per Starter account, 3 for Core, and your entire org for Teams.
- Storage retention: Repls will be subject to deletion after 1 year of inactivity on the Starter plan.
- Deployments:
 - Starter plan users can Deploy a single static site without a credit card on file (1 GiB outbound data transfer limit). This change will roll out in the next few weeks.
 - Autoscale, Reserved VM, and Scheduled Deployments now need to be tied to a Core account. If you have active Deployments of these types, you'll receive a separate email with more details.
- Development
 - Development time: The Starter plan is limited to 600 development minutes per month. Upgrade to Core for no development time limits.
 - Development outbound data transfer: changing Starter plan limit to 1 GiB.
 - Development storage: changing the Starter plan limit to 2 GiBs.

Unless mentioned above, these changes will fully take effect on August 19th.

We understand that this may impact how you use Replit. We've carefully considered these adjustments to ensure we can continue providing a sustainable platform for all our users.

For a full overview of the changes, see replit.com/pricing. If you have any questions about the changes, please reach out to support@replit.com

The Replit Team

*Regarding “unlimited” Repls — it is impossible for us to give people unlimited Repls. There is a high upper bound that almost 0 people will hit.
